

KEY WEST TEMPERATURES

The Only Frost Free City in the Continental United States

Located at 24 degrees north latitude, the Island of Key West is situated within the subtropical region of the Western Hemisphere. Because of its proximity to the Gulf Stream and the Gulf of Mexico, Key West has a mild tropical – maritime climate where the average summer and winter temperatures rarely differ more than 10 degrees. Prevailing tradewinds and sea breezes join forces to subdue the summer heat. As for winter, Key West has never reported frost, ice, sleet or snow!

Temperatures

MONTH	HIGH	LOW
January	71	66
February	75	65
March	79	70
April	82	73
May	85	76
June	87	79
July	89	80
August	89	80
September	87	79
October	84	76
November	80	75
December	75	67